

Finding a Hike

What's the best hike?

What's the best hike for families? - Avoiding bucket list traveling (but still featuring some epic spots!) - Too many people visiting the busy, crowded places

Age Ranges - Infants: birth - toddler stages who are carried - Toddlers: around one-two year-olds who can walk some of the trail (being carried for other parts), or all of short trails. - Little kids: Two- four or five years who can walk all of short trails, and even some parts of lengthier trails. - Big kids: Four -eight or nine who can walk longer distance are who up for bigger challenges - Pre-teens and older: Eight or nine or up

Other Considerations – accessible: To strollers and wheelchairs
